THE IRIS Published at McDonell Memorial High School CHIPPEWA FALLS, WISCONSIN Volume 22

1937

FOREWORD

For four brief years, the members of the class of 1937 have been together. Within this Iris is a chronicle of their joys, their sorrows, their studies and their play, as well as a fleeting image of McDonell Memorial High School.

The class of 1937 has etched its record upon the immutable manuscript of time. It closes its high school career when Chippewa celebrates its centennial. In future years "at a pause in the day's occupations" vivid memories will be recalled when the graduates of 1937 leaf through the pages of this their yearbook.

We dedicate this Iris to ALEXANDER ANGUS McDONELL who passed to his eternal reward since the publication of the last Iris. Mr. McDonell's influence was not confined to one field but was felt in uncounted places. The McDonell Memorial High School of Chippewa Falls is a living, magnificent monument to the genuine Christian spirit of A. A. McDonell as well as his illustrious father, the Hon. A. B. McDonell. The memory of A. A. McDonell will linger in Chippewa Falls as long as the Hilltop School exists—as long as the Catholic youth of this region continue to go to the McDonell Memorial High School.

Daily grateful prayers well up from countless youthful hearts and are wafted to the Great White Throne of God, pleading for the men who made a Catholic high school education possible in Chippewa Falls.

A. A. McDonell's Greatest Memorial The last Iris Mr. A. A. McDonell saw was the one of 1935. On the very day he died, the book of 1936 was issued to the students. Following is a copy of the letter Mr. McDonell wrote upon receiving the yearbook in 1935.

The Senior Class McDonell Memorial High School Chippewa Falls, Wisconsin

My dear Friends:

I am just in receipt of the Iris of 1935 and have gone through same with a great deal of interest. I wish to congratulate you on the way this booklet has been brought out, and I think you deserve an abundance of credit for making the booklet such a success.

It seems to cover all of the school life for the past four years of the McDonell Memorial High School.

I also wish to congratulate you on dedicating it to the Reverend James McGurk, Pastor of Notre Dame Parish of your city, and I know it has made him most happy, as a reward for his untiring efforts on behalf of your school life.

No doubt when you start out in your business world, you will often look back and admire his fatherly advice given you during your school life at the McDonell Memorial High School.

Wishing you all success in the begining of your business life, I am

As thousands of fingers turn the pages of this book, and thousands of eyes read between the lines, when gaze after gaze seeps beneath the pensive looks on the faces of the staff, perhaps there will be a few, in the days ahead, who will realize that the McDonell Iris of 1937 was a fancy born in the hearts of the students at the advent of their high school days, a reality at the close.

The explosion of the pent-up emotions set the wheels moving, and in a few months, a gigantic project which will require an eternity to forget, was viewed as a success by those who had worked stubbornly, doggedly to see their publication a masterpiece.

Words are meaningless when thanks are proferred, but it is our most sincere wish that the faculty, the student body, and that great army, the business and professional men, understand our infinite gratitude for the cooperation extended, without which our dream would have been a haunting memory of what might have been.

The fascinating art work of the 1937 Iris was done by Marie Bresina and Medard Jasper whose talent is no longer hidden. The business manager, Ione Forrester, and her genial assistant, Ethel Hughes, carried on in the true fashion of McDonellites of the past, in making the yearbook a financial success. To the associate editors, Kathleen Phalen, Mildred Ritzinger, Jane Sullivan, and Warren Smith, we are indebted for the many hours of their time, which they gave so willingly during the many days previous to May 10, when the Iris went to press. Much credit is also due to the sports editors, the class photographers, and the advertising managers for their excellent work which elicits immediate appreciation when seen.

McDonell, we salute you! May our 1937 Iris be kept within your folds, as a tribute to our memory, as we shall forever hold you dear to our hearts.

Senior Resume

It is truly fitting and appropriate that the year of 1937 should witness the emanation of thirty-seven students from the stately portals of McDonell High. The Seniors presented their class play "A PAIR OF SIXES" on May 16.

Royal blue and gold were selected as the class colors. Appropriately enough "Ad astra per aspera" has guided the Seniors over the rough and stormy journey of their high school careers. Ever mindful that earthly progress cannot be attained without Heavenly intercession the "Queen of Peace" was chosen as patroness. The Blue Iris was adopted as the class flower.

Kathleen Phalen carried the honors of class valedictorian and Sue Marie Ermatinger of salutatorian.

The impressive baccalaureate services were held in Notre Dame Church on Monday morning, May 31. In the evening of June 3 their school days drew to a close when the graduation exercises were conducted in the auditorium.

The students who comprise the upper third of the Senior Class as determined by the honor points earned during the four years are as follows:

JUNIOR RESUME

With a determination to make the scholastic year a shining success, the members of the class of '38 assembled for the third time within the protecting walls of McDonell Memorial High School. Its numbers had been somewhat diminished by the departure of several notable members, one of whom went to take up her abode in the capital city of Wisconsin, another now resides in one of the Pacific states, and a third is pursuing her studies across the sea in England.

However, a versatility of talent was discovered in the rather small class. If you are seeking scholastic excellence, there is Mary Jean Connell; dramatic ability, Lenore Germain or Bernadine McElroy; a news reporter, Iola Kleush; a football hero, Francis Rushman; a basketball star, Carl Nicolai; a pugilist, Richard Sullivan; a delightful baritone singer, Bernard Frenette; an accompanist, Arthur McDonald; a convincing debater, Robert Piotrowski or Peter Harings; a comedian, Arthur Durch or Jerome Padrutt; an artist, Medard Jasper; a woman with executive ability, Mary Elaine O'Neil; and so on, down the roll, each plays his part on the stage of school life.

SOPHOMORE RESUME

On September 8, 1936 we reentered McDonell to enlist in the ranks of sophomores. In the early part of the year we were particularly honored in having Mary Elsie Phalen elected as secretary of the Student Council. During the course of the year several candy sales and bake sales were sponsored and the sophomores gave evidence of their business and culinary efficiency. The proceeds added a new 1936 model microscope to the biology department.

Our class was divided into groups, each group taking special interest in some outside activity. When Christmas time arrived the united efforts of all the groups were centered on the distribution of food baskets among needy people. The Xaverian group sponsored a number of candy sales, the proceeds of which were presented to Father Ausman for the foreign missions.

April 28 was the biggest day of our sophomore year. We entertained the seniors, juniors, and freshmen at a Spring Skip. After a program the student body proceeded to the gymnasium where the school orchestra furnished the dance music. A delicious luncheon was served after the grand march, led by the two general committee chairmen of the party, LaMoine Cardinal and Patricia Stumm. Judging by the various activities of the past year, the sophomores feel that their fine spirit of cooperation has not been in vain, and they are ready to steer their vessel into deeper waters during their junior year.

FRESHMAN RESUME

On September 7, the good ship S. S. McDonell took on 65 new passengers from the many ports of Tilden, Jim Falls, LaFayette, St. Charles, South Side, and Notre Dame. Soon after they set sail, commanding officers for the new group were chosen as follows: Marie McDonald, Captain; John Phalen, Commander; Dorothy Engel, Lieutenant-Commander; Carl Abel, Lieutenant. The principal social event of this voyage took place on January 9 in the hold which was decorated for the ocasion with huge Christmas trees and icicles encircling the portholes. Even today some of the passengers speak of this as a perfect party. In the course of the voyage, the new sailors learned to unite the intricate knots of Latin, French, and German. Attempts to sight Antonio's "argosies with portly sails" in the MERCHANT OF VENICE were a pleasure. We can scarcely love Portia more than we do now even after our brief stay with her at Belmont.

A few of us took on the siege of seasickness when we entered the Sea of Algebra. We discovered in the Sea of Ancient History how the old Romans and Greeks conducted their ships of state. The last and biggest event was our benefit card party made successful through the efforts of our dear mothers and many friends. It won't be long now and we will be safe in the Port "Sophomores" for another journey through pleasant waters and under sunny skies.

The A. A. McDonell Honor Society

With the opening of McDonell Memorial High School in September 1937, was inaugurated the A.A. McDonell Honor Society. The purpose of this organization is to perpetuate the name of the man who did so much, both personally and financially, to promote high scholastic attainments. Students who make the A.A. McDonell Honor Society automatically go into the intellectual aristocracy of McDonell Memorial High School. With this issue of this Iris is submitted the charter members of the society. Eligibility for the society is based on the "Honor Point System" and all students who receive one Blue Ribbon during a scholastic year become Members of the Honor Society.

RULES GOVERNING THE HONOR POINT SYSTEM

 The Honor Point System is based on scholastic achievement only.

 Scholastic First and Second Honors are determined every six weeks. To merit Second Honors a student must earn at least ten honor points and to merit First Honors at least fifteen honor points must be earned.

 At the end of each semester Second Honor White Ribbons are conferred on students who earn thirty Honor Points during the semester, and First Honor Blue Ribbons on those meriting forty-five points.

4. Religion and 45 subjects carrying one credit per year merit the following Honor Points during a six-weeks period:

75-79 - - No Points 90-94 - - - 3 Points 80-84 - - 1 Point 95-99 - - 4 Points 85-89 - - 2 Points 100 - - 5 Points

Manual Training, Sewing, Cooking, Typewriting, and any other subject for which one-half credit is given for a year's work merit the following Honor Points during a six-weeks period:

The most beautiful, spectacular, and colorful ceremony of the school year is the crowning of the Blessed Mother of God as the Queen of the May. This solemn event takes place on the last Sunday in May at a flower decked altar erected out in the open on the Notre Dame Church grounds. Several hundred boys and girls, from the tiny tots to the stately seniors, participate in the procession which wends its way around the Church premises, singing hymns of love to the Queen of the May. First Communicants in simple white, graduates in somber gray cap and gown, high school girls in uniforms and lace veils, boys and girls, all, in their Sunday best do honor to the Mother of God. Last in the procession is the Queen's court, consisting of little flower girls, pages, the maids of honor, and finally the May Queen who places the garland of flowers on the head of the statue of Mary when five hundred voices sing "O Mary We Crown Thee With Blossoms Today, Queen Of The Angels, Queen Of The May."

Jane Sullivan of the graduating class was elected this year as the May Queen and the Johnson sisters, Dorothy and Valeria, as the maids of honor.

ATHLETICS

Occupying an important place in the attention of the undergraduate and alumnus, the athletic program of a modern High School provides a constantly changing parade of colorful activity, filled with rapid action and tense moments. It offers the onlooker something that can be obtained in no other phase of academic life. Football, basketball, boxing, etc., and a busy intramural schedule, combine to fill completely the sports program at McDonell.

FOOTBALL

The Football Season of 1936 will be recalled as one of the most colorful in the annals of sports on the Hilltop. Outside of their first encounter, and that with mighty Cumberland, when yet the team was green, no school scored more than 7 points a game against the Macks all season. They broke even, losing to Cumberland, Cotter, Somerset and Aquinas, defeating the Alumni, Spring Valley, St. Felix and the highly touted Stanley powerhouse. The forward wall was not bulky, but rangy and fast, whose efficiency and speed gave them the jump on their heavier opponents. In short, the Macks had a light team and a traditionally fighting one.

McDONELL AT CUMBERLAND, SEPT. 18

The Macks journeyed for their first game and baptism by fire to Cumberland. To the surprise of the dopesters, they out-played and out-gained the Beavers in yardage, especially in the first half, but lacked the scoring punch. In the last half, the overwhelming weight of the Northerners wore our men down. Despite the score of 0 to 20, Cumberland has made the statement that the 1936 Macks were the hardest fighters they had met in a long, long time. That's quite a reputation for the McDonell 1937 squad to live up to.

McDONELL—ALUMNI

Then the Alumni challenged the Macks who eagerly accepted. And though all the stars of Chippewa were in the lineup, condition will tell. The old Grads were defeated, 7-0. Gene Cardinal starred for the Alumni.

SPRING VALLEY AT McDONELL

McDonell opened athletic relations with Spring Valley and cemented the frienship by tendering them a 14-6 defeat. The McDonell backs broke away at will and rolled up four times as many first downs as their opponents.

STANLEY AT McDONELL

An inspired Blue and White wave defeated an incredulous Stanley eleven, before a packed stadium. What was one of the best high school games ever seen in these parts turned into a victory of 7-6 for the Macks. Incidentally, that was the only game Stanley lost all season.

COTTER AT McDONELL

With the first string backfield out of commission, the Macks not only fought the heavy Cotter team to a standstill, but led them by 6-0 up as far as the last quarter. Then Bambenek, their 200 lb. full-back, went over for a touchdown. The conversion being good, we lost 6-7.

McDONELL AT ST. FELIX

At Wabasha the Macks met the undefeated St. Felix aggregation. A touchdown in the first period, a safety in the third, and another in the last quarter completed our victory of 14-6.

SOMERSET AT McDONELL

Somerset, the school that up till their visit with McDonell had lost only one game in 2 years, now met the Macks and won by 6-0. A basketball pass bounced off the head of one of our line men into the arms of BeLisle, their quarterback, who happened to be the fastest man on their team. Like a deer, he sped for a touchdown.

McDONELL AT AQUINAS

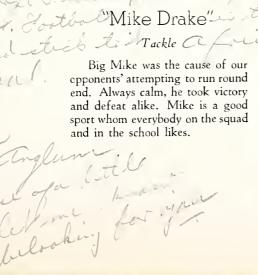

The Aquinas onslaught swept our boys off their feet to the tune of 7-0 in the first few minutes of play. Having swamped Cotter but recently, Aquinas was a bit chagrined at the termination of the game that the score still remained 7-0. Our line played football that day, charging in hard and smearing up plays beautifully. With the Aquinas game our football season came to a close.

FOOTBALL

Senior Varsity Football Players "Was Smith" Guard Warren was a fellow with quite a bit of grit. And despite the fact that he is light and small, he bore the brunt of many a heavy line encounter. "Capt. Jim Anglum" Although Anglum talked a good game, he always fought a better one. Every team remarked that they could not take him out of play. Anglum could take it; \ and could he give it?!! As Captain, Jim had very much to do with, driving the team to its successful season. The 1937 squad is going to miss Jim Anglum, one of the most colorful football players Wisconsin has seen for some time.

Le de ill pre ur

Big Mike was the cause of our opponents' attempting to run round end. Always calm, he took victory and defeat alike. Mike is a good sport whom everybody on the squad and in the school likes.

Senior Varsity Football Players

"Art DeLisle"

Too bad that Art didn't don a McDonell uniform sooner. Always in good physical condition, he was plenty tough and one of the hardest workers on the team. He was one of the factors that helped McDonell end such a fine season.

"Bob Danenberg"

Bob was a Center most any team would be glad to get. In his junior year he played at tackle. He then stepped into Jim Connell's shoes at Center, where he gave yeoman service.

"Don Billiard"

End

Many a coach laments: "Now if I only had a good end!"

Don was a good end, possessed with lots of courage and plenty of speed. It was he who started the guns roaring in that St. Felix tussle.

"36-37" BASKETBALL

In basketball, 1936 was quite a successful year for the Macks. Of the 19 games contested they won 12. It is memorable to recall their victory over DePadua at Ashland, over Stanley at Chippewa, and a double triumph over Aquinas.

Anglum, Doucette and Billiard have played their last game for McDonell. They have done well.

All thanks to Kohler and Jasper for their fine coaching.

Basketball

Hiding behind that bit of pastry is little Bob Cardin-

Dorothy Picotte and Catherine Butler introducing peasant modes.

Senior girls gracing the duck pond, Ethel Hughes, One Forrester, Millie Ritzinger and Sue Ermatinger.

Spring is here! Juniors forget their dignity and match marbles.

In the group are Dick Svilivan, Francis Rushman, Alden Young and Tom Carroll.

Only genial Gene DeLisle.

Bob Cardinal and Duke Doucette brushing up on their fencing,

Jim Anglum and Bob Friedeck act as seconds.

Yes, it's their gold ties they want you to see. Milderd Ritzinger, Dorothy Johnson, Margaret Billiard, Rose Myre, Kathleen Phalen, and Ione Forrester primp.

Father Hanichek looks over Chippewa.

The Duke of Windsor, Wally Simpson and the Hon. Stanley Baldwin strolling the campus on a chilly December morn.

Back to nature, Ned Revord interpreting the cave man instanct.

Athletes from the toes up. Don, Jim and Duke.

Senior football men line up, Duke, Jimmy, Art, Bob, Kanny, Mike and Don.

Val and Doris, inseparable pals.

A fleeting glimpse of our loved reverend pastor.

Gerald Quigley, Jim Doucette, and Bernard Frenette stop to pose when the good old thermometer says 40 de-grees below zero.

The Johnson sisters.

Westy Franzen and her ron horse.

There are those handsome men again — Mike Drake, Carl Nicolai, Jim Anglum, Johnny Murphy, and Jimmy Doucette.

Friend to all McDonellites, Mr. Adolph LaFrania.

How could the senior girls concentrate on such a bright day?
Marg Postle, Dorth Picture, Marg Plante, Keney Sedlacek, and Westy Franzen still.

Kathie, Rose, Val, Kenny and Dorth snapped near Mc-Donell's portals.

Ned making the girls laugh again, Millie and Kath.

A few of the "oh so hand-some" senior boys. Hold your hearts girls. Art De-Lisle, Carlos Myre, Gene DeLisle, Don Billiard, Duke boucette, Chuck Chartrand and Mike Drake.

Look at those smiles, the reason for them isn't hard to guess—school's out. The happy seniors are: Jane Sullivan, Don Billiard, Ethel Hughes, Dorothy Johnson, Val Johnson, Carlos Myre and Warren Smith.

Raaising beards for the Centennial are Pete Harings, Bob Piotrowski, Warren Reiter, Dick Sullivan, Lionel Jasper, William Reiter, Paul Reopelle, Puz Murphy, Bud Durch and Gerald Quigley.

Grecian mood interpreted by a few Junior boys. Viewed in the scene are Bud Durch, Pete Harings, Bill Leiter, Puz Murphy, Paul Reopelle, Dick Sullivan, Warren Reiter, Gerald Quigley, Lionel Jasper and Bob Piotrowski.

Pal, Toby and Tudy smile in anticipation of a school party.

Yes, they finally condescended to pose. Joan Mc-Carthy, Mary Jean Connell, Catherine Abel and Bernadine McElroy.

"I did it with my little hatchet" quoth Bud Durch in his humorous characterization of George Washington. Also in the cast were Paul Reopelle as the father, Jerome Padrutt as the negro slave and Pete Harings as the cherry tree.

And then there's a bit of junior pulchritude, boys; Joan, Mary Elaine, Fern, Iola and the gang.

Watch the birdie!! Joan McCarthy and Bernadine McElroy did.

Just Reney Sedlacek, Marg Postle, Val Johnson, Mary Ritzinger, Ethel Hughes, Toby Decker and Westy Franzen swinging the jinx away!

Dick Sullivan, Puz Murphy and Bill Reiter in a huddle.

Super-salesman Durch and his assistant Paul Reopelle.

Look at Puz trying to stretch "Shorty's" length.

Maybe it's a Maypole dance but you can judge for yourself, The sophs with the fetching look in their eyes are: Mary Pinch, Lucille Harings, Doris Schmidt, Elaine Kelly, Patricia Stumm, Dorothy Kelly and Eunice Steichen.

Coaches Lloyd and Kohler view two of their football men, Puz and Red Murphy.

Shy sophs oblige again. This time they are Marie Bresina, Mary Margaret Larson, Pat Stumm, Virginia Schoonover, and Geraldine Augustine.

Nifty gals, what? Mary Pinch, Mary Phalen, Mary Kelley, Rose McHugh, and Rosemary O'Connell. Could that be Bob Freideck in the background gazing down on the fair maidens?

There are the McDonell huskies again. Reopelle, Thibedeau, Murphy and Harings are in the foreground.

Sophomore boys gaug up on Bob Sosinsky. Eugene McDonald, Joseph Korger, Bob Sosinski, Donald De-Long, Floyd Schiedler and Harold Connolly.

Harold Connolly, Red Murphy, and Bobby Connell eager to assist three sophomore lassies, Virginia Schoonover, Pat Stumm and Gerry Augustine.

The camera-man ducked when Mary Phalen, Mary Kelly and Pat Connell all ran after him.

The quizzical expression on Dorothy Kelly's face is only the result of being surrounded by Pat Stunun, Doris Schmidt, Mary Pinch, Lucille Harings, Eunice Steichen, and Mary Kelly.

Sophomore girls prove that sunshine is an aid to heauty. These maidens are Rosemary O Connell, Mary Elise Phalen, Rose Mary McHugh, Mary Pinch, Virginia Ritzinger, Geraldine Augustine, Marie Bresina and Mary Margaret Larson.

Three members of the Washington skit. Padrutt, Reopelle, and Durch.

Informal pose by Dorothy Kelly, Pat Connell, Dick Allard, and Dolores Meinen.

Three Sophomore girls, Angeline Stumpf, Mary Elise Phalen, and Jane DeLisle look with hopeful eyes toward their coming junior

Just Rose McHugh.

An informal shot of frolicsome freshmen.

Wanda Peloquin, Norma Cayo, Dorothy Engle, Joan Hebert, Louise Hebert, Jean Hub and Rosemary Hebert.

How can Wanda Peloquin remain cold with the arms of her classmates, Louise H.b.rt, Rosemary Hebert, Doris Cote, Margaret Wittrock, Jane Frennette and Lydia Williette about her.

Cirls! Girls! Girls! Wanda Peloquin, Margaret Dumars, Mary Jane Smith, Lydia Willette, Jane Charland, Wimnifred Quigley, Catherine Harings, Louise Hebert, Elizabeth Pinch, Jane Frennette, Mary Lou Nunke, Doris Forrester, Jean Hub, Dorothy Engle.

"Darkhorse" Chisolm escorting a group of McDonell femmes down the hill. Mary Lou Nun e, Dorís Forrester, Jean Hub, and Mary Pinch.

See the boys in the background? Joyce Ryan, Rita Thornton, Joan Hebert, Jean Hub, Louise Hebert, and their companions make a fetching picture.

Jimmy DeLong heads a list of freshmen boys. Dale Nadreau, Donald LeDuc, Robert Nowak, Lorin Gonyea, kevin Loiselle, Philip Willette and Donald Pederson.

Size 9's in the making, as so and so display their er—feet. Donald LeDuc, Donald Pederson, Robert Nowak, Dale Nadreau, Loren Gonyea, Jack Pregent.

Somebody's crazy. Is it the picture or the girls? Joan Hebert, Wanda Peloquin, Rosemary Hebert, Rita Thornton, Lydia Willette, Margaret Wittrock, Mary Jane Smith, Jane Charland, Joyce Ryan, Margaret Duliars and Patricia Rada.

Johnny Phalen in a pensive mood.

SEPTEMBER

- 8 With a crash and a bang school opened for the 1936-'37 grind. The Seniors wondered where the band was to meet them.
- 14 Classes have settled down to normalcy.
- 18 After weeks of hard practice, the football team journeyed to Cumberland and returned home on the short end of a 20-0 score. Tough luck.
- 26 With a vengeance the Mackmen took the Alumni into camp 7-0. Boy, did it rain!

MAY

- 9 The eighth grade presents "Camou-flage," their class play.
- 10 The Iris goes to press. Are we tired?
- 12 First rehearsal of the Senior Class play is given.
- 16 "A Pair of Sixes" is presented before an enthusiastic audience. Will someone please notify the members of the cast when Cecil B. DeMille calls up?
- 17-21 Final exams cause last-minute anxieties for the Seniors.
- 23 A delegation of Seniors represent Mc-Donell at the Marion Congress.
- 24-28 Final Exams for the rest of the school.
- 29 The publication of the 1937 edition of the Iris brings forth a great deal of praise for the hard-working staff.
- Jane Sullivan, in an inspiring ceremony, crowns the Queen of May.
- 30—Baccalaureate Exercises are held in Notre Dame Church.
